CONSUMER COMPLAINT

Facts of the Case:

The complainant had shared a One-Time Password (OTP) which led to an unauthorized transaction of ₹45,000 being deducted from their account. This incident has caused significant financial loss and mental distress to the complainant.

Applicable Laws:

The case falls under the purview of several laws including the RTI Act 2005 (Sections 7 and 20) and the BNS/BNSS Acts 2023 (Sections 177, 260, and 531), which pertain to the right to information, consumer protection, and banking regulations.

Relief Requested:

The complainant seeks a refund of the deducted amount of ₹45,000, compensation for the mental agony and harassment endured, and directions to the bank to implement stringent measures to prevent such unauthorized transactions in the future.

The complainant respectfully requests the consumer forum to provide appropriate relief.
